

Squeaky clean remedies to chocolates, crayons, and all things gooey.

A baby's skin is a lot thinner and more fragile than an adult's and with an immune system that's just getting to grips with its foggy surroundings even the most diligent care can struggle against the ever increasing prevalence of adverse skin and health conditions.

Some are inevitable, a carry over of mum's hormones which usually disappear naturally over time. Some are a little more stubborn and easily aggravated by our baby's world, which is why paediatricians are swift to advise keeping the usual list of suspect ingredients and chemical accomplices well out of reach.

More recently there has been a growing consensus amongst childcare professionals that in the absence of truly natural alternatives, parents should avoid all soaps lotions and cleansers and use just water. It seems that the cleansers just aren't clean enough despite what the dazzling marketing campaign says!

Fortunately, the recently launched PURbabies brand addresses these concerns and following three years intensive development has produce a selection of products that are gentle, safe, and entirely free from harsh chemical preservatives and synthetic ingredients. The company is also one of only a handful of manufacturers in the world whose entire range is pure enough to be certified organic by the Soil Association, making them the ideal choice for families keen to choose genuine organic products.

The range itself is a compact six products made up of a Purifying Organic Hair and Body Wash, a Nourishing Organic Baby Lotion, a Nurturing Organic Baby Oil, a Soothing Organic Nappy Balm and an Organic Nipple Balm and Regenerating Stretch Mark Butter for mum. The range will shortly be extended by a Neutral Baby Shampoo, Relieving Stretch Mark Oil, Soothing Nappy Cream, Talc Free Baby Powder, and a Post-natal Bath Oil. And with a promise to never make or sell a product that cannot be certified by the Soil Association the same strict standards of purity apply throughout*.
